Pascagoula Firm Gets Waveland Contract

The city of Waveland awarded a $1,281,000 contract Tuesday night to Wallace Industrial Constructors of Mississippi to build a sewage treatment facility to meet federal and state environmental standards.

The Pascagoula firm was awarded the bid after city attorney Lucien Gex, Jr. presented a resolution to the aldermen stating that Wallace was the low bidder on the plant and that Lewis and Eaton, engineers for the city, had recommended the bid be accepted.

Bids for the treatment facility had been opened last Sept. 5, 1973, but action had been delayed on awarding any contract because all of the bids were over a $1 million cost figure that the city had estimated for the plant.

After the bids were opened the city petitioned the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) for an additional $250,000 to build the treatment facility. Last week the city said that they had received verbal assurances from Larry Turner, southeastern regional manager of EPA, that the additional funds would be granted.

At Tuesday's meeting Gex stated that a telegram had been received confirming what the city had already been told verbally.

The plant will be built on 20 acres of land that the city purchased two years ago — located off St. Joseph Street and extending from Gulf Side Street.

Gex said that the plant will be adequate for Waveland based on a 10 to 20 year growth rate, but was so designed and structured that the city of Bay St. Louis could tie into the system in the future if they so decided. The facility would not be adequate for that period of time for both cities, he said. Gex said that the contractor will have 365 days to complete work on the contract, and said that he did not foresee any problems. Work, he said, on the city's sewage collection facilities was proceeding ahead of schedule.

The federal Environmental Protection Agency is providing approximately 75 percent of funding for the treatment facility, Gex said.

In other business before the council, Clarence Evans, resident engineer Waveland sewer project gave a report on the status of the sewage collection system being installed by Wilson Construction Company of Shreveport.

Evans said that a comprehensive survey of the resurfacing of city streets made necessary by the installation of the sewage system had been completed and indicated that the city was obligated to pay for 12,982 square yards of streets and another 1,047 square yards of driveways and walks amounting to $70,145. The contractor, he said, was obligated to resurface an additional 16,321 square yards without payment.

"As of this date the contractor has assembled his paving crew," Evans said, "and is making arrangements to bring in a larger roller for use on the street repaving."

The streets to be repaved immediately include Jeff Davis, Market Street, Sears Avenue, Central Avenue, Dane Road, Nicholson Avenue and Waveland Avenue. Evans said that other streets would be given a priority rating as work progressed.

Evans said that all the main sewer lines in the collection system had been installed except for 1200 feet on Oak Boulevard, 2600 feet on Fell Street, 400 feet on Market Street, and 300 feet on Gulfside Street.

"Infiltration tests have been made at random," he said, "but are not considered as final and will be retested. The preliminary results have been very good on the main lines except where the sewer joins the manhole. That has created some problems which are being corrected," he said. Evans said that the contractor had also had some problems finding a qualified invert man.

"One of the big jobs still to be done," he said, "is to make the L&N Railroad crossings under the tracks. All legal obstacles have been cleared and the contractor has been instructed by letter to proceed."

Evans said that he also wanted to call attention to the council's obligation under the specifications for the waste treatment plant to provide an accessible road into the plant site from St. Joseph Street.

Sex Education Discussed By Board

Building plans and sex education were the topics of discussion at the Tuesday night meeting of the county school board.

The board heard a request from Mrs. Helen Necaise, school nurse at Hancock North Central High School for some type of sex education program at the school. At the least, she said, something dealing with the problems of venereal disease. Mrs. Necaise asked if the board could be present at the next parent-teacher meeting.

Board members expressed agreement that such a program would be a good idea, but said that they did not feel that the presence of the board as a group at the Parent Teacher Organization meeting would be a good idea.

It is too easy, chairman Davis said, for such meetings to drift from their original purpose and for persons to engage the board in matters unrelated to the meeting.

Davis suggested that Mrs. Necaise report back to the board after the PTO meeting and after the proposal had been aired by parents at the meeting.

Fred Wagner, architect for the school board, told the board that he did not think that they would be sticking their necks out should they decide to go ahead and build a new cafeteria at Hancock North Central School.

"You would be doing nothing wrong if you wanted to build a new cafeteria right next to the present class building," he said. Wagner said that there would be no waste since there are nothing but elementary children there now anyway. The old cafeteria could be left as it is, he said, and used exclusively for the junior high and senior high students. The board was also considering renovation of the old cafeteria.

Wagner said that before he could give the board any cost idea on a new gym for HNC, a decision would have to be made on what facilities the board desired to have in the gym facility. Once this was decided, he said, an estimate of how much floor space and how large a building necessary could be made.

Concerning the specifications and plans for the new South Central High School at Gulfview, Wagner said that these documents were ready to advertise whenever the board had the money to proceed.

Council Delays Action On Bid

The Bay St. Louis city council delayed action for the third time yesterday on a one-bid-for-street-improvements received in October.

The council said that they would like to consider further the recommendation of engineer James Chiniche that the city reject the bid of Tri-State Materials Company of Gulfport because it was some 30 percent higher than bid estimates.

Councilmen Clarence Ladner and Lucien Kidd have been reluctant to automatically reject the bid. Both have expressed concern over the fact that the city has had trouble getting any bids at all for the particular street work involved.

Tri-State's bid is almost $15,000 over the estimated cost prepared by Chiniche.

Mayor Warren Carver and Ladner proposed that the city possibly include more streets in the bid and readvertise at a later date. Carver said that he thought the small number of streets accounted for a large part of the high bid.

Tri-State's bid of $40,250 includes some eight streets. Kidd said that the problem with delaying was that the cost of everything would continue to increase in the meantime, and the city might have to pay additional engineering fees to have the plans revised.

Kidd said that the city had $3,450 invested in engineering fees right now. Chiniche said that he felt it was his responsibility to the city to tell them that he considered the bid too high. "I feel like the contractor is looking at this thing like he is the only bidder and if you want the work done you will pay his price," he said.

Chiniche said that he could not recommend that the city accept the bid. The council voted to suspend action on the bid until Nov. 19.

McLucas Praises Military-Community Relations

Speaking to a luncheon meeting of members of the Mississippi Gulf Coast Retired Officers Association at Keester Air Force Base last Friday, Secretary of the Air Force Dr. John L. McLucas praised the close community relationship of civilians and military personnel stationed at the base.

McLucas, who was appointed Secretary of July 19, said that he wished to give an accounting of his time in office much as a chief executive officer makes a report to the stockholders in his corporation.

"Your combined role as interested citizens and retired officers provides you with a unique capability as stockholders," McLucas said.

McLucas said that he wished to talk briefly about some recent things which were affecting the Air Force. He touched briefly on the Air Force budget status, the Middle East Crisis, the Air Force's modernization program, and the success of the new all volunteer recruitment policy.

On the subject of budget McLucas said the Air Force has suffered reductions of almost 30 percent over the last six years due to an annual inflation rate of four to five percent and a budget which has remained at basically the same level.

The Air Force had accommodated to the reductions, he said, through various means, including a 25 percent reduction in total manpower, a reduction in the areas of research and development, plus the end of involvement in Southeast Asia.

McLucas said that he felt the House

Board, Contractor Clash Over HNC Sewer Plant Bid Award

The Hancock County School Board meeting interrupted into a verbal clash Tuesday night after board attorney Joseph Gex told the board that he had somewhat of a "problem."

Gex said that a question had arisen about the bid awarded by the board for the sewage disposal plant at Hancock North Central High School at the board's meeting last week.

"I was contacted the day after this meeting last week," Gex said, "by the attorney for Terry Feeney and was told in effect that they did meet the specification as provided by the board."

Feeney was one of three bidders for the plant at HNC. Bids were also received by H.R. Morgan, Inc. of Petal and Weaver and Son of Gulfport. Feeney, a local contractor, was low bidder on the plant with a bid of $38,000. Morgan followed with a bid of $38,319 and Weaver and Son bid $48,500.

Although Feeney had the low bid, Frank H. Dunaway, consultant engineer for the school plant, recommended that the board accept the bid of H.R. Morgan. Feeney's bid, he said, did not meet the described specifications of the board.

Gex said that he was relying on the opinion of Dunaway last week when he told the board he felt it was perfectly alright for them to award the contract for the disposal plant to the second lowest bidder if Feeney did not meet the specifications.

"I contacted the attorney general in Jackson," Gex said, "and he said that we could still go with either bid."

"The only reason I brought it up is because Mr. Frisbie contacted me and said that they did in effect meet the specifications and wanted to know why they (the board) didn't award the bid to us."

Horace Red Davis, chairman of the board, said that he felt the board could accept Dunaway's opinion that Feeney did not meet the specifications.

"After all the board hired this man as a consultant engineer," he said.

Dunaway addressed the board and said that he still maintained that the bid of Feeney did not meet specifications. At this point Feeney and Frisbie interjected themselves into the middle of the meeting.

"I am certain that all the board members agree with me," Davis said, "that if Mr. Feeney had met the specs, his company would have been awarded the bid."

Frisbie interjected and asked

Dunaway if he had ever talked to his client about who he planned to use in his bid. Feeney had several prices on bids, he said.

Frisbie said that Dunaway had never contacted Feeney in regards to the specifications of the bid and had instead consulted with Steve McNair of Pollution Control who was to provide the plant that Feeney included in his bid proposal.

A shouting match erupted after Davis tried to table discussion of the matter for a later meeting.

"Well let me ask you why we were invited here," Feeney said.

"I didn't invite you here," Davis shouted back. "If a member of this board invited you here, I'd like to know who he is."

"Well why is he here?" Feeney shouted back, referring to Dunaway. Gex tried to clear the matter up saying that he had told Dunaway and Morgan that it might be a good idea for them to be present.

"Nobody holds himself above error, I hope," Frisbie said, "including Mr. Dunaway. I don't understand why the engineer talked to a salesman (McNair) instead of Mr. Feeney."

Dunaway started to read to the board a prepared letter outlining what areas of Feeney's bid did not meet the specifications, at the request of one of the board members, when Frisbie objected.

"You are quoting from what the salesman told you," he said. "You did not talk to Mr. Feeney."

Dunaway's statement said, "Mr. Steve McNair, with Pollution Control, informed me on the way out of the office of the school board that Terry Feeney, Inc. was going to use the Pollution Control Plant. I asked Mr. McNair to please get me some plans and specifications on this plant. He did so, and delivered them to me on Saturday."

City-County Disposal System Proposed

Bay councilman Lucien Kidd said Tuesday that the city would meet jointly with the city of Waveland and federal and state pollution control agencies Nov. 19 to develop a coordinated plan of action for sewage treatment facilities within the entire county.

Kidd and Bay St. Louis mayor Warren Carver met Friday with representatives of the Mississippi Air and Water Pollution Control Commission in Jackson to discuss the city's plans for making application for an EPA step one grant.

They were accompanied by George Kleinpeter and Tom Jackson, representatives of Burk & Associates, Inc. of New Orleans, who are being contracted by the city to make the application.

Burk & Associates will provide environmental planning and engineering services for extensions and improvements to the city's sewerage collection and treatment facilities providing the city gets the EPA grant.

Kidd said that the city's application would not be filed until after the Nov. 19 joint meeting.

This morning the council is scheduled to meet with the Hancock County Board of Supervisors to discuss the city's plans for sewage treatment facilities.

"This is just a little preliminary briefing to advise the supervisors what the conditions are," Kidd said, "to bring them up to date before we get into the big meeting Monday Nov. 19—so that they will be informed on what knowledge that we have right now," Kidd said.

"Then they can reach a decision on what they're going to do with us, and afterwards we'll meet with the group from Jackson and one from Atlanta (EPA)," Kidd said. "Then at that time we'll get the okay to file the application."

Kidd said that the meeting with Waveland and EPA on Nov. 19 would be to make sure that the city's plan is coordinated with anything that the county does. Kidd said that EPA and the Air and Water Pollution Control Commission were trying to work on a regionalized basis if possible.

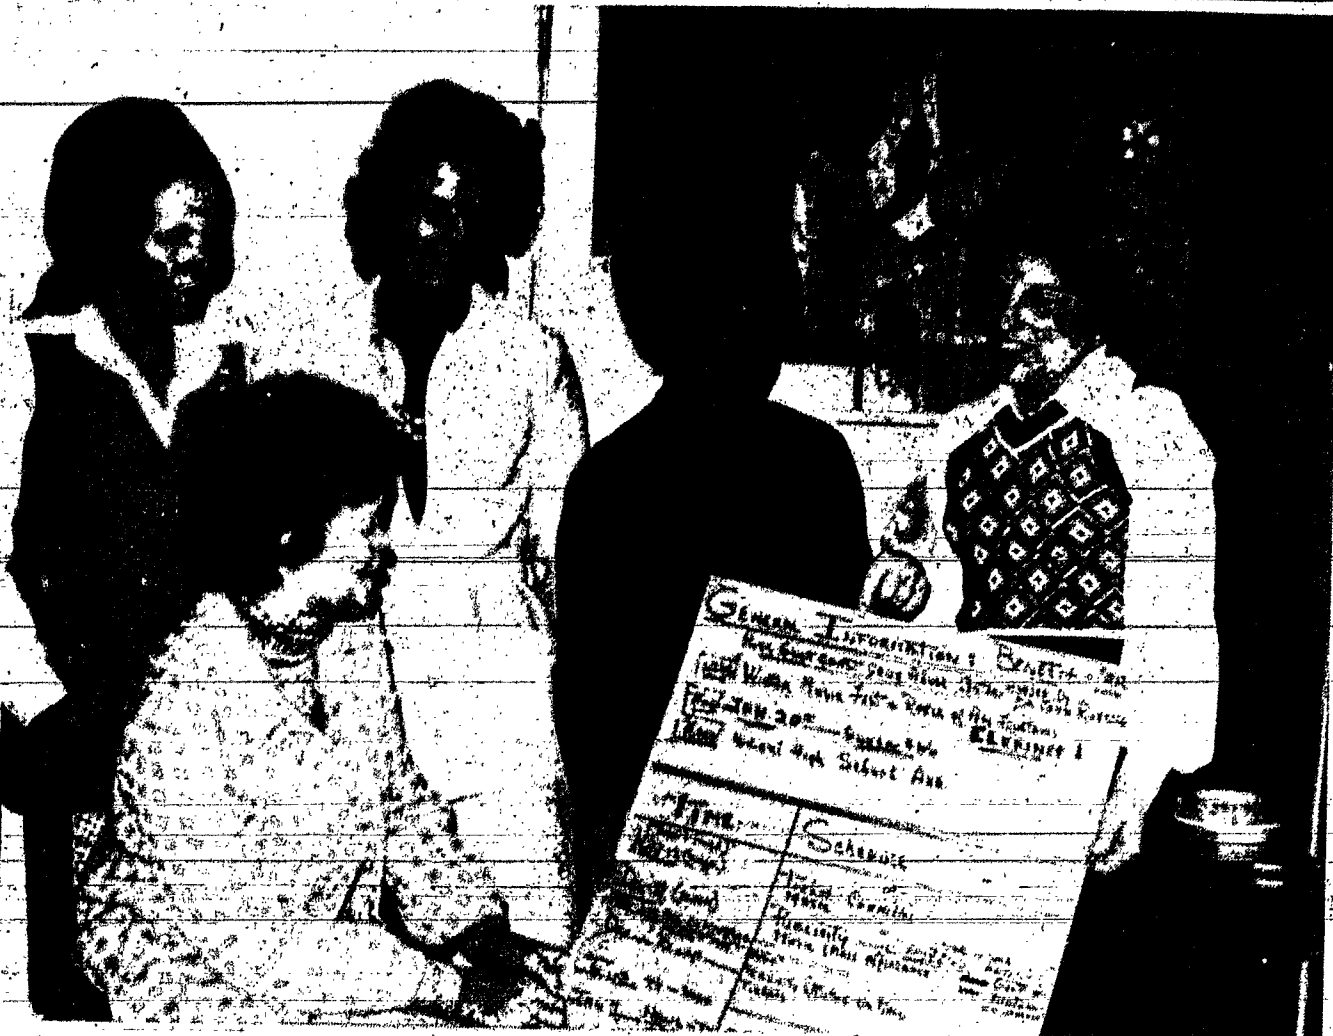

"There is no sense," he said, "in the city having a waste disposal system and the area around continuing to dump their sewage into the adjoining bayous and rivers."

Kidd said that the two agencies desire

Russell Warns:

Mississippi Is On A Tightrope

Parents, children and interested citizens were told Thursday night that unless the community gets behind some kind of drug abuse program immediately that people will soon have to move away from the Gulf Coast.

Dr. John Russell, director of the Mississippi Gulf Coast Drug Abuse Center in Gulfport, speaking to the Bay St. Louis-Waveland Junior Auxiliary at Bay Junior High School, said that the drug traffic on the Gulf Coast had worsened drastically within the last year and that it is easier now to get heroin on the coast than it is in Harlem.

"I'm tired of seeing dead kids," Russell said. "I'm tired of apathetic adults. You know who is coming to help us? - young adults."

Russell said that he would like each person present to spread the word around that it is almost too late. In the first six months of this year, he said, the center has had over 60 kids under 17 years of age, hooked on heroin.

"I know that if I told you that there was a serious disease in the community you would want to know where to take your kid. Well, I'm telling you that there is an epidemic of drugs," Russell said.

The present facilities for treating drug abusers were inadequate, he said, and a full time live-in center was needed.

"Sure we have a day take-in center and a place people can go at night," Russell said. "But we need a full time center."

"We have 18 counties to cover and three paid employees," he said. "You try to run a business that way."

"The adult people on the coast have got to get involved," Russell said. "It's no longer enough just to be aware. Now we must say get involved or just forget it."

Russell said that physical dependence alone was not the problem. "It's the problems at home," he said.

Russell said that people needed to keep some old fashioned values and communication going again. "Give some love, start some communication, start a drug abuse center," he said.

"The kids need a place where they know they can get some help and find someone who will keep their confidence," Russell said.

"Don't talk about drugs to little kids," Russell said, "talk about values."

Russell said that each adult present could give his child four things that would reduce by 75 percent their chances of ever using drugs. This included, he said, some kind of meaningful experience in school, a conventional religious and political viewpoint, a bright outlook for the future, and some communication and domestic tranquility.

The average parent spends only about 15 minutes a day with their child, he said.

"There isn't any substance that is good or bad per se," Russell said. "It's the use of the substance that's good or bad. Things have their uses. So if you teach values then you are teaching responsible use of drugs."

Reduction of energy use in buildings was also called for.

Purser had been charged with failure to file returns for 1968, 1969, and 1970. His gross income for the three years is alleged to have been $316,405.18.

Purser now faces a maximum sentence of three

New Orleans Symphony Orchestra

Program Has Appeal For All Age Groups

The New Orleans Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Werner Torkanowsky, will give a return performance at the Bay St. Louis Junior High School Gymnasium, on Tuesday, November 20, at 7:45 p.m. The concert is being sponsored by the Bay-Waveland Junior Auxiliary.

A special matinee will be held that afternoon with Harrison and Hancock Counties school children participating.

Selections included in the evening performance are Symphony No. 5 in B-flat Major by Franz Schubert; excerpts from Smetana's "The Bartered Bride"; and Symphony No. 1 by Sibelius. The children's matinee will feature music especially adapted to the age group.

Tickets for the evening performance may be obtained from any Bay-Waveland Junior Auxiliary member or by calling Mrs. James Woodfin at 467-5162. A limited number of reserved seats is available.

The following program notes have been compiled on composers and their works which will be performed at the children's matinee Tuesday. These program notes have been planned by the artistic staff of the orchestra to appeal to students of every age. The performance lasts one hour and often features student soloists chosen from statewide auditions each spring.

Michael Glinka, whose real name was Mikhail Ivanovich Glinka, was born in Russia in 1804 and lived to be 52 years old. Russian and Ludmilla, his second opera, was written to go along with a poem by the famous writer Pushkin. We hear the beginning of the opera, which is called the Overture.

Ludwig Von Beethoven was born in Germany in 1770 and lived until 1827. He had a very difficult life because he wasn't well educated, he didn't have very good manners and he wasn't very good-looking either. When he was about thirty years old, he began to lose his hearing. Beethoven had such great talent that he was still able to write beautiful music after he was completely deaf. We are going to hear the Finale of Beethoven's First Symphony, which was written before he went deaf.

Paul Hindemith was born in Hanau, Germany in 1895. He left home when he was only eleven years old because his parents opposed his having a musical career. Hindemith lived until only ten years ago. From his composition called Symphonic Metamorphosis of Themes by Carl Maria von Weber, we hear the movement entitled Turandot. Turandot is a set of variations on an old Chinese melody.

Hector Berlioz lived about the same time as Michael Glinka (1803-1869) in fact they knew each other. He was born in France and began to write music when he was about fifteen years old. Berlioz's parents wanted him to become a doctor and he did go to Medical school but chose to be a musician after all. He wrote the Fantastic Symphony hoping to attract the attention of a woman that he loved very much. From this symphony we hear the movement entitled March to the Scaffold.

Bedrich Smetana was born in Czechoslovakia in 1824. His father managed a brewery and was something of an amateur musician. Young Smetana was one of eighteen children. He was quite a prodigy. We know that he took part in performances when he was only five years old, and had composed pieces when he was eight. The Bartered Bride is an opera he wrote when he was about 40 years old. From it we will hear two dances - first the Polka and then The Dance of the Comedians.

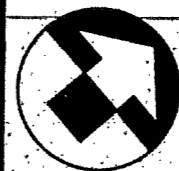

Another Russian composer with a long name was Nikolai Andreievitch Rimsky-Korsakov. He was born in 1844 and lived until 1908. He began to study music when he was six, but in those days being a musician was not considered proper for a member of an aristocratic family and he was sent to the Russian Naval Academy where he stayed for six years. He was only able to continue working at his music studies on weekends. Capriccio Espagnole was written in 1887. We hear two movements, entitled Scene and Gypsy Song and Fandango of the Asturias.

Colling's Corner

By E.S. Colling

"Among the historic roads of Mississippi the Robinson Road has a high place," wrote historian Dawson Phelps twenty-three years ago.

The Robinson Road ran across the State from Columbus to an intersection with the Natchez Trace a dozen miles north of Jackson. In 1820 the country around Columbus was rapidly filling up with emigrant settlers, whose only means of communication with the State capital was by the Trace, but to reach it they first had to go up the Tombigbee river to Cotton Gin Port, thence across country to the Trace and down it to Jackson, a trip of 260 miles. But with a new road from Columbus direct to the Trace the distance was cut to 160 miles. Congress appropriated $5000 for the project and work was begun in 1821 with Raymond Robinson, one of the founders of Raymond, Mississippi, in charge, and the road was officially named for him.

Two years later, in 1823, an additional $7900 was set aside for the road, and in 1826 $15,000 more was appropriated. But in spite of these large expenditures, the road was still uncompleted. According to Dawson Phelps "The explanation is not far to seek. Instead of being located on a ridge, as was the Natchez Trace, the road crossed many sluggish creeks and rivers which were bordered by wide swamp areas." Building a road across this terrain was a herculean task; even with modern road machinery it would have been a mammoth undertaking, and in spite of whatever aid the State legislature could give, construction dragged on and on.

Eventually it reached the Trace and a few settlements were established on or near it, notably Artesia and Louisville. By 1830, ten stands, or taverns, had been established on the new road. A newspaper mentioned the "great highway" and reported that "At certain seasons of the year it is thronged with emigrants and travelers."

But new villages sprang up throughout the territory and new roads were built to link them, and parts of the Robinson road were abandoned and other parts became sectors of county and State highways. The whole section of the State was developing with amazing rapidity, and eventually construction of the new road just sort of petered out. But it had accomplished its purpose of linking Columbus with the Trace and of opening up a large, rich section of the State to settlers. The closest you can come to it today is a route from Oshama (on the Trace) to Carthage, thence by Hwy. 25 to Louisville, north through the Tombigbee National Forest to Starkville and due east to Columbus. It is beautiful and interesting country, with an excellent stopover inn at Louisville, a trip well worth the effort.

Our Readers Write

Dear Sir:

This is in reply to those on Camille Circle, Housen Project, who signed a small Petition in your Reader's Column 11-3-73 issue.

I wish to state that I do answer calls for dog pick ups, and have been out in that area on several occasions, but it is impossible for me to be in all places at all times. I am only one individual. I use my own private car, furnish my own gas, at $25 per month, pick up sick and mangy dogs, some snappy, biting dogs too.

The care and maintenance of an over crowded Dog Pound, trying to hold two other jobs to make ends meet. These people who complain should have to witness some of the animal experiences I have to contend with, in my life as Dog Warden.

Dear Editor:

We would like to express our appreciation to the merchants who participated in the recent "face-lifting" that has taken place at a number of business establishments along Jeff Davis Avenue.

It is inspiring to us all to see pride in the appearance of our city displayed in this manner.

We feel Long Beach has an unlimited potential for growth if we continue to have hard working citizens who are sincerely interested in its present and future and are willing to put that interest into action.

We hope to see other, similar, indications of pride in our home town demonstrated throughout the community.

The Long Beach Board of Realtors

Dear Sir:

I thought that only Sears Avenue and Piney Ridge Road were being used as drag strips. However, after reading your Nov. 8th edition I learned that Camille Circle and Herlihy are also being used as drag strips.

The residents of Camille Circle and Herlihy called the police and received no help. I called the Town Marshal and was told to file an affidavit against the drivers. Why should I file an affidavit; the police are being paid to enforce the law and if they do not then they should be replaced.

The Waveland police would render better service to the taxpayers if they patrolled the streets of Waveland rather than harassing tourists parked on the beach.

Yours very truly,
E. N. CANADY

Dear Editor:

I am a handicapped Veteran, living on a small pension. My vision and hearing are slowly leaving me. The doctors say they can do nothing, so I have made hobbies to keep busy and fight off periods of mental depression and despondency, which seem to plague me most of the time.

While I am collecting antique valentines and old post cards, I am also collecting rare old calendars and advertising cards, in hopes of writing a book about the items I collect, and earn enough from it to get off this small VA pension and have medical care, which the VA is unable to afford me, so my hobbies have a dual purpose.

Living on limited funds, I depend on friends and others for the items I collect, and was wondering if any of your readers had any antique valentines, old post cards or rare old calendars they do not want, because I would be happy to have any they may care to send me and be glad to get them.

Thank you for your time and kind consideration in reading my letter.

Respectfully yours,

Dear Editor:

I am interested in instructional fencing in foil, epee and sabre in schools, colleges, athletic clubs in Gulfport area. Youth and adults are good prospective pupils.

Fencing is an art for both competition and "play for fun".

My contribution is to talk to Ath., phy. Ed. and Recreation directors of schools, boys clubs and city recreation centers to develop interest.

I have fenced and coached for two generations in schools, colleges, athletic clubs, the military.

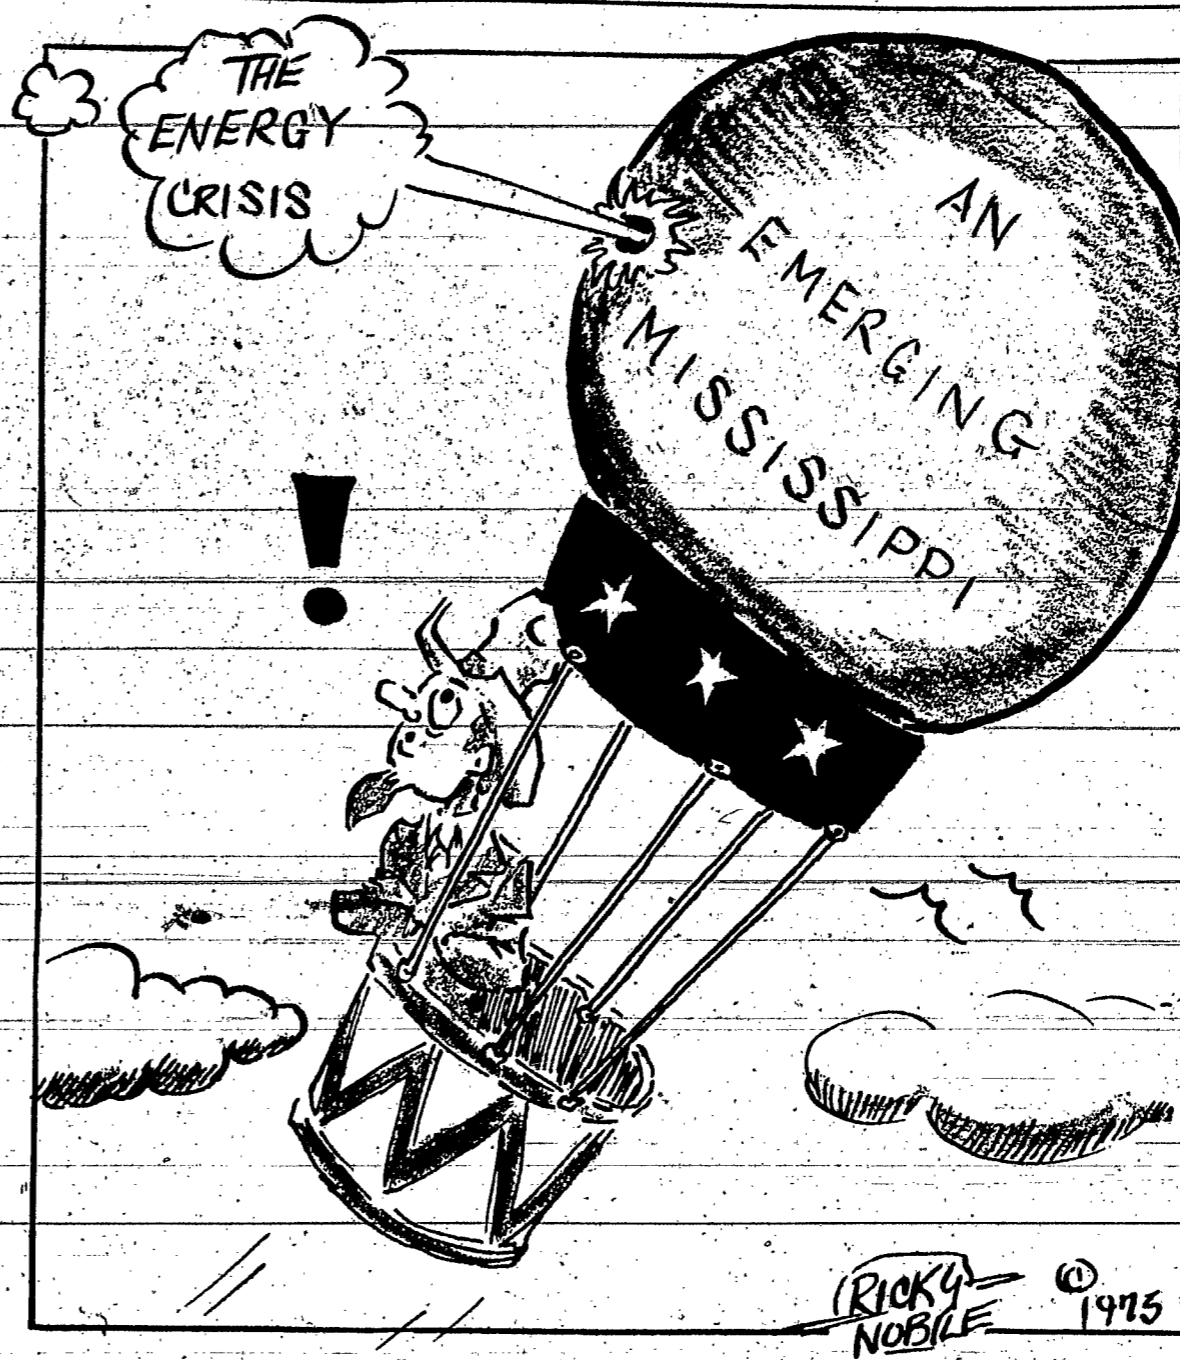

I am an associate member of Amateur Fencers League of America (AFLA) and qualified to promote.

Will you assist me in such a fine venture for added sports and recreation by an editorial, story and/or letter to the editor, please?

I welcome from you any advice for the promotion of this wonderful activity. Your action and good will will be gratefully appreciated by me and future pupils.

I thank you in advance for your help and suggestions.

Sincerely,
Maj. "Barney" Farun (ret.)

Washington Report

By: Rep. Trent Lott

A STRONG DEFENSE

Slicing waste from our nation's defense budget is one thing, but cutting into the heart of our military strength is quite another.

That's the point many of us in Congress are trying to make as we search for ways to hold the defense budget to a reasonable minimum. In short, we are reminding our colleagues that military strength is just as much a necessity for peace as it is for war.

The $21.3 billion military procurement authorization approved by the House of Representatives recently is just about as low as we can go without weakening our defense. Anything less than that could undermine our entire military system.

The 1974 military appropriations — either already passed or due out of committee in the near future — will probably contain at least $804 million for military projects in South Mississippi alone. Most of that — $781.3 million to be more specific — is for the LHA and destroyer programs at the shipyard in Pascagoula. Another $22.7 million is to be set aside for projects at the Naval Home in Gulfport, the Naval Battalion Construction Center in Gulfport and Keeler Air Force Base in Biloxi.

I think it goes without saying that there is little room for reduction in those areas. There is, in fact, only token Congression opposition to any of those projects.

To be sure, frequent critics of Litter's "Shipyard of the Future" still take stabs at the LHA and destroyer programs, but they have little company in the House of Representatives. Congress apparently realizes that we must have those ships — and that Mississippi shipbuilders are more than equal to the task.

It all boils down to one hard, cold fact: we must continue to maintain an adequate defense — whatever the cost. And LHAs and destroyers are part of that defense.

Congress must also realize that a strong defense requires a strong Army. Whether we can survive with a volunteer Army is still open to question, but preliminary evidence indicates that a volunteer Army may work.

In fact, Secretary of the Army Howard "Bo" Callaway told me at a luncheon just recently that he is pleased with the results of the volunteer program so far. He insists that such a program will, indeed, work.

There are, of course, detractors who point out that a volunteer system will work only in peacetime — which is exactly the intent of the system. We can always return to a draft system if we ever return to war.

In order to make a volunteer system work, however, the Army must make itself attractive to young men and women. It is here that we hit one of the real stumbling blocks as far as money is concerned.

A full 65 per cent of the Army's budget now goes into salaries, housing allowances and other personnel benefits. Simple mathematics will tell you that only 35 per cent is left for procurement of weapons and other defense-related equipment.

There are other problems with defense spending, of course, but while we are trimming the fat from that budget we need to refrain from cutting into the muscle of our military system.

When the veteran student reports to school some are paid immediately and some are not. Those who are not paid will have the same expenses for tuition, books and living expenses as those who are paid. At that time the answer as to why one veteran was paid immediately and another delayed is very simple and beyond the control of the Veterans Administration. Those who are paid requested advance payments.

Now is the time to ask for advance payments. If a student is enrolling at the same school for a second term, he should notify the school at the time of enrollment that he wishes advance payment and request the school to ask for the advance and to certify that he will attend.

If it is the first time for the veteran to attend at this school, he can make his request directly to the Veterans Administration, but he must have been accepted by that school before he makes his request. He should state that he has been accepted and the number of credit hours scheduled or the number of clock hours and days of attendance.

While we are speaking of education,

Don't forget that the wife and children of 100 percent SERVICE CONNECTED disabled veterans are entitled to educational assistance under the GI Bill at the same rate of pay as the veteran or $220 per month.

Bring your yearly income questionnaire cards to me when I return to my office on Nov. 19 and I will assist you in making them out if you need help. Remember that unusual medical expenses may be reported and they will be used as the basis for giving you additional pension payment. Unusual medical expenses are expenses in excess of five percent of your total income.

Any veteran with other than an honorable discharge is entitled to be buried in a Veterans Administration Cemetery and if at the time of applying for the burial plot more than one burial is desired in the same plot this can be arranged at that time, i.e. a veteran and his wife.

Gov. Reagan Is Keynote Speaker For Republican Dinner

California Governor Ronald Reagan will be the keynote speaker for the New Majority Dinner, Friday, November 16, at 7:30 p.m. in the Hotel Heidelberg in Jackson.

Expected to be the largest dinner ever held in that hotel, ticket sales indicate an overflow crowd will be on hand to greet and hear Ronald Reagan.

Mississippians will have the opportunity to hear one of the more colorful political personalities to appear on the American political scene in the last decade.

Upon taking the office of Governor of California, Reagan first dug into the deficit budget in California, asking people to accept an $800 million tax increase in order to get the state on an even keel. Now his present fight with the legislature is over his desire to return $826 million in a one time surplus to the taxpayers, in a rebate, give them an ongoing income tax cut, and embark on a 15 year plan of continuing tax cuts, and putting a tax limitation in the Constitution. In addition he has worked to enable government agencies and departments to run with fewer people despite a gigantic workload increase that has been occasioned by population growth.

He has also been the nation's leading welfare reformer. After uncovering the fact that 41 percent of California's welfare recipients were fraudulently on the rolls, the laws were changed to allow investigation of these people. Cross checks by computer are run, and eligibility must be established before going on welfare. A program was instituted so that able bodied welfare recipients must perform some useful work for a government entity. This alone caused thousands to disappear from the rolls. Other thousands have reported and private work has subsequently been found for them in order for them to go off welfare.

Reagan is also using a task force to fight crime. It has come up with about 100 proposals, such as mandatory prison sentences for dope pushers and gun carrying criminals, and reinstitution of capital punishment, the latter having been signed into law. Task forces also are looking into the complete spectrum of the law, courts, prison and parole. California already has put into effect many innovations in prison reform.

Governor Reagan is opposed to gun control laws, as he contends it is wrong to take away guns from law-abiding citizens because the criminal is always going to have his. Since he tried, but failed, to get a two term limitation on California Governors, he will not seek a third term. Reagan is the present front-runner for the 1976 Republican Presidential nomination among rank and file Republicans. The Gallup Poll has shown him to be nearly even in the polls in a race against Democrat Senator Ted Kennedy.

Republican State Finance Chairman W. D. "Billy"

Mounger announced Wirt A. Yerger, Jr., as Chairman for the $100 per plate dinner, with Mrs. Steele Hardeman as Vice Chairman, and Mrs. Dan Hughes Arrangements Chairman. In addition to Governor Reagan, Congressman Thad Cochran and Trent Lott will be on the program, along with Gil Carmichael, Mississippi Mission '70's Chairman, Clarke Reed, State GOP Chairman, and Mounger.

Gifts Asked For State Hospital

As the Christmas season draws near, miraculously there seems to come a change in men's hearts. A spirit of warmth, love and good will toward fellowmen prevails, and people react in a way that is not evident at any other time of the year.

At the Mississippi State Hospital volunteers and staff members work together to make this season happy and joyous for each of the 3900 patients of the hospital. Through the Volunteer Services Department, citizens are given the opportunity to remember and give to those less fortunate through the "Every Patient a Gift" project. On Christmas morning every patient receives a beautifully wrapped package, made possible through the kindness of people throughout the State. Patients know that the people of the outside community care—that they wish for them a speedy recovery and a return to their homes, where they can again lead full and useful lives.

Almost any gift, especially those in plastic containers, is acceptable. Some suggestions are as follows: cigarettes, candy, cookies, hair-brushes, cosmetics (all kinds for both men and women), scarves, lingerie, house-slippers, rain-coats, sweaters, and purses.

Remember the patients like pretty things, too. Please do not send used articles.

Christmas Packages may be mailed to:

McLucas.....

Appropriations Committee, while not giving them everything they requested, would not cut vital modernization programs such as the B-1, F-15, and A-10.

The budget, he felt, should now be stabilized at the current level.

McLucas said that he thought surface differences with our European friends had been somewhat highlighted by the Middle East crisis, but that the mutual basic interest in security still remained firm. McLucas said that the future course of events in the Middle East and in security negotiations elsewhere will give greater indication whether the large powers will continue further arms buildups or show a relaxation of tensions.

What has come to be called a period of detente, McLucas said, is an adversary relationship that reflects competition mixed with restraint.

McLucas said he thought it inconsistent for the critics to continually carp for more defense cuts, and at the same time expect the U.S. to be able to react to a Middle East type crisis on a 24 hour notice or less.

Concerning manpower requirement, McLucas said the Air Force was in good shape. "Since the draft authorization ended on July 1, the Air Force has more than met its overall recruitment goals each month," he said, "in addition, the quality of our recruits continues to improve so that, this fiscal year over 95 percent have been high school graduates."

McLucas said that he wanted his report to our "Board of Directors" on the current status of the Air Force to reflect the fact that "many of our troubles are behind us and that we can meet our goals with respect to both people and systems modernization."

But to get the needed force levels and improvements, he said, "we must insure that the public understands the requirements of defense."

Nov. 3. The plant proposed by Mr. McNair (Terry Feeney, Inc.) did not meet the specification.

Friskie said that McNair had no authority to speak for Feeney and that Feeney was perfectly willing to use any plant that he (Dunaway) suggested in order to meet the specifications of the board.

Davis moved to quell further arguing. After determining that no contract had yet been signed, he said that he felt the board should call a special meeting to discuss the matter.

the joint meeting with just one group so that they will know the intentions of everyone.

Concerning Thursday's meeting, Kidd said that the supervisors must agree to have a coordinated effort to determine what district to put the sewerage in. "It's their decision on the outside whether they want to try the whole county at one time, or whether they want to just take a portion of Shoreline Park, or whether they want to take the area south of Bayou LaCroz."

Waveland.....

"As Gulfside is a shell road I doubt very much if the sewage contractor's restoration by replacing the shell surface will be adequate to meet the heavy construction traffic that can be expected."

In other action the city adopted a resolution extending St. Joseph Street from Spanish Trail to Hwy 90 after the resolution was presented to the aldermen by attorney Lucien Gex, Jr.

St. Paul's-Crystal Springs To Meet In JC Bowl

Breaking what the Bay St. Louis Jaycees had hoped would be an established tradition, two out-of-town football teams were signed last week to play in the annual Jaycee Bowl game scheduled this year for Nov. 23.

When the Jaycees initiated the bowl event some four years ago, the primary aim for participants in the annual season closer would be the top scoring team among the three Hancock county area high schools. Bay High Tigers met out-of-town teams for the first three years, but this year, although eligible, chose to go to the Pickle Bowl in Wiggins. St. Stanislaus, with next high season score, also declined the honor.

Tomcats Rip Rockachaws In Season End

By Edward Favre
The St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws ended their football season on a losing note last Friday night at Rock-A-Chaw Stadium when the Stone County Tomcats defeated them 35-6.

The Tomcats scored three touchdowns in the first period to take an early lead in the game.

With a little over two minutes gone in the first quarter, Mike Gilner of the Tomcats ran 38 yards for the first TD. The extra point attempt by Peter Sala was no good.

Four minutes later Roy Walker put another score on the board for the Tomcats on a four-yard run. A two-point conversion by John Buckhalter was good.

A Johnny Knight punt was blocked later in the first period deep in Rock-A-Chaw territory and Monnie Elchos tried to run the ball out for the first down, but was stopped on the Rocks 12-yard line.

Two plays later Tomcat Winston James scored from the ten yard line. Peter Sala added the extra point from placement to give Stone a 21-0 lead.

With just 33 seconds gone in the second period, Buckhalter scored from 45 yards out on a pitch-out from quarterback Bill Baggett. The extra point attempt by Sala was good.

The only Stanislaus score came with 1:20 to go in the first half, when quarterback David Wier passed to Ricky Hymel for 27 yards. The extra point attempt failed making the halftime score 28-6 in favor of Stone County.

With 1:10 to go in the third period, quarterback Bill Baggett hit Guy Campbell with a four-yard pass. Sala made good on the extra point conversion from placement to end the scoring. Final score Stone County 35, Stanislaus 6.

Mistakes Scuttle Pirates, Long Beach Wins 6-0

by Ted Stechmann
Special to the Echo
The Long Beach Bearcats scored early following a Pass High fumble and held on to take a 6-0 decision from the Pirates in a non-conference battle at Bearcat Stadium Friday night.

Following a first quarter Long Beach punt that died on the Pass High one yard line, halfback Hilton Swanner burst up the middle for an 11-yard gain. On the following play, however, Pirate quarterback Vic McDonald fumbled and the Bearcats recovered. Albert Snow then took a pitch-out and streaked into the end zone from 13 yards out, making the score 6-0. The extra point attempt failed, and Pirate fans breathed a sigh of relief.

But this was not to be their night. Each time the Pirates mounted a drive, a stubborn Bearcat defense and their own mistakes turned the ball over. Pass High's defense was equally tough in keeping the Cats bottled up the rest of the night but offensive errors kept the game out of reach. Three recovered fumbles and two passes intercepted late in the contest clinched the win for the Bearcats, their tenth victory in as many outings, and their first unbeaten season since 1961.

At halftime, defensive tackle Mike Van Winkle was honored as Long Beach's most valuable player of the year, and was awarded a trophy, donated by Jay-Jay Chevrolet. Friday night's game marked the end of the regular season for both teams, but both will play in post-season bowls. Long Beach will host St. Joseph's of Jackson in the Jaycee Bowl on November 17, and Pass High will travel to Ocean Springs to take on the Greyhounds in the Turkey Bowl November 21.

Pickle Bowl

Classic Battle Expected Between Tigers & Braves

BAY HIGH TIGERS are lined up and ready for the weekend when they will meet the top rated South Jones Braves in the Pickle Bowl clash at Wiggins. Game start time is 8 p.m. Saturday night.

The Stone County Jaycees have set the stage for a classic battle when the Bay High Tigers take on the South Jones High Braves in the Pickle Bowl this Saturday night. Kick-off is set for 8 p.m. in A. L. May Memorial Stadium in Perkinston.

The game will feature the explosive South Jones offense clashing with Bay High's stingy defense. The Braves, sporting a 9-0-1 record and the DeSoto Conference championship, have averaged an amazing 314.5 yards per game. The Braves will face a Bay High defense which has limited opponents to an average of only 113 yards a game. The Tigers ran their record to 8-1 with Friday night's 28-13 victory over Ocean Springs, in which the Greyhounds were held to 14 yards rushing and kept from registering a first down in the second half.

A closer look at statistics reveals why the game should be a barn-burner. South Jones has averaged rushing 166.5 yards a game; Bay High has given up only 39.8 yards rushing per game. The Braves have passed for 148.5 yards per game, while the Tigers have allowed but 73 yards passing per game. The Bay High defense was the number one ranked defensive unit in the Gulf Coast Conference, while South Jones had the top-rated offense in the DeSoto Conference.

Bay High's offense came on strong in the last three games, averaging 29 points a game in those final contests. For the season, the Tiger offense ranked second in the conference, rushing for an average of 148 yards a game and passing for an average of 79.1 yards.

Quarterback Bobby Robbins of South Jones hit on 51 of 115 attempts for 1332 yards to lead the Braves' offense. Robbins personally accounted for 18 touchdowns. Bay High quarterback Mike Magee hit on 44 of 109 attempts, seven of them for touchdowns.

Leading rusher for South Jones is Eddie Jones with 949 yards and six touchdowns. Bay High's leading rushers are Anthony Summers (477 yards); Gilbert Whavers (305 yards); and Hubert Seals (219 yards). Seals had a great game against Ocean Springs, rushing for 133 yards.

The game has attracted a lot of interest and a sellout is expected. Bay High fans are advised to buy their tickets now; tickets are available at all Bay St. Louis public schools. Adult tickets are $2 and student tickets are $1.

Tigers Shape Up For Pickle Bowl With 28-13 Win

By Edward Favre
The Bay High Tigers ended their regular football season on a winning note by defeating the Ocean Springs Greyhounds 28-13 last Friday night at Greyhound Stadium in Ocean Springs.

The Tigers were trailing the Greyhounds 7-13 at the end of the first half, but came back in the second half and dominated play holding the Greyhounds scoreless.

The Tigers scored first on a 34-yard pass from quarterback Mike Magee to Leslie Hinson. Sam Piazza added the extra point from placement, giving the Tigers a 7-0 lead at the end of the first period.

The Greyhounds tied the score late in the second period on a three-yard run by quarterback Mike Bruno and the extra point by Joe Johnson.

With seconds to go in the first half the Greyhounds took the lead on a 15-yard run by Steve Smith who picked up a blocked punt and ran it into the end zone. The extra point attempt was no good giving the Greyhounds a 13-7 half-time lead.

Bay High got on the scoreboard with 31 seconds left in the third period on a nine-yard run by Gilbert Whavers. The extra point attempt was no good making the score 13-13 at the end of the third quarter.

Early in the fourth quarter the Tigers took the lead on a 17-yard pass from Magee to Sam Piazza. Piazza added the extra point from placement giving the Tigers a 20-13 lead.

With 31 seconds left in the game, Mike Bruno was trapped in the end zone for a safety. On the last play of the game the Tigers scored a touchdown on a 34-yard pass from Allison Favre to Irvin Hawkins, making the final score 28-13.

Hubert Seals of Bay High was the outstanding player of the game as he gained 133 yards on 26 carries.

Bay High, 8-1, will play South Jones in the Pickle Bowl at Perkinston this week.

HNC Closes Season With 1-9 Record

By Edward Favre
The St. John Eagles of Gulfport defeated Hancock North Central 14-7 Saturday night in a Pascagoula River Conference Football Game at Joseph W. Milner Stadium in Gulfport.

Keith Laird scored for St. John in the first quarter on an eight-yard run. Nathan LeBlanc made good on the extra point from placement.

The score at halftime was St. John 7, Hancock 0.

In the third period the Hawks of North Central tied the score when Don Lee took the ball in from four yards out, and the extra point from placement was good.

In the final minute of the fourth period quarterback Pat Prejean scored on a one-yard quarterback sneak to give the Eagles the victory. The extra point was good making the final score 14-7.

Hancock closed out its regular season play with a 1-9 record.

KANTCHA KETCHUM

By L.S. (Doc) Elliott

Another cold front moved in Saturday morning, which helped hunting and fishing. On the fishing side, speckle trout and bass started hitting better and other salt water fish such as ground mullet, red fish, sheepshead and bull croakers were caught most everywhere, plus flounders. On the hunting side, things were normal with rabbits, squirrels and doves being killed. All these seasons are open plus ducks, in the La. marshes. The deer season will open soon.

Ralls-Sora, Virginia, King and Clapper the season opened on Oct. 27 to Jan. 4. Ralls are also called marsh hens. They stay in marshlands and travel along the banks of bayous. Gallinules, not often sought after by hunters, are a duck-like bird with a bright red bill, a patch of white under the tail. They are good eating. Fishermen who are also hunters get a kick out of killing ralls and gallinules while fishing.

Charles Prest has just returned from a fishing trip to Empire, La. Charles returned home with red fish and speckles. An ardent fisherman, Empire is his favorite fishing grounds. It is a wonderful fishing place any old time. His son-in-law is his fishing partner.

The month of November is filled with events which concern all members of the S.S.C. Sideline Club. The annual Turkey Shoot Nov. 11 was a great success.

Saturday, Nov. 17 will be the Football banquet, and Nov. 24th will be the annual Thanksgiving Social. This will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the boys' dining room. Wives of the members and guests will be charged $2.50 each to attend. Both of these events are important to the Club and are a lot of fun for those attending. Make up a party and have a good time.

Harry Brooks and Judge Homes caught some nice ground mullets and flounders the other day at two different places. Harry has a new boat which he shares with his friends.

Everette Davidson loves to hunt turkeys and deer. He also does a bit of fishing. He hails from up in Hancock County.

Joe Ladner is another of our younger men up in Hancock County who hunts and fishes. Says he goes out for everything.

Jaye Hoda said he would rather hunt than fish. Is busy now hunting game that has open season at this time. Knows his stuff when it comes to hunting. He is from Rocky Hill Community.

Bob Von Ehren and his grandson, Karry Crites from St. Louis made a fishing trip to Inside Campbell's Bayou the other day. They caught some Bull Croakers and large flounders according to Bob. Bob is one of our best old time fishermen and knows the ropes when it comes to fishing. Karry said he just loves to fish.

Emmett Johnston has a home at Lakeshore. He hunts and fishes. Emmett has been with the L & N Railroad for years and works out of New Orleans. Has an 18-foot boat and trailer which he uses to advantage. Gets results, too.

Gilbert Lennsmyer is another sportsman who loves the outdoors. His favorite sports are fishing and hunting. His wife accompanies him on his fishing trips. Right now he is busy repairing and painting his boat for future trips.

Joe Cook Kellar is getting ready for a squirrel hunting trip next Saturday. Going with some of his hunting buddies up in the country.

E.V. Aimes, President of the Sideline Club with Donald Strong and Randy Adams, both vice-presidents, were busy boys with their helpers last Sunday at the Turkey Shoot held at St. Stanislaus Stadium. As usual it was a success. A large crowd attended.

J. Burton Angelle, director of the Louisiana Wild Life and Fisheries Commission, reminded hunters today of the up-coming deer season which opened in several Louisiana parishes last Saturday for still hunting only and also of the Louisiana regulations requiring deer hunters to be in possession of a big game hunting license when hunting deer.

He said that applicants should be aware that a basic hunting license is required before a big game license can be issued and that although persons under 16 and over 60 years of age are not charged for the big game license they must have one in their possession when hunting deer. Licenses are available from the Louisiana Wild Life and Fisheries Commission, 400 Royal Street, New Orleans, Louisiana, 70130, and from sheriff's offices throughout the state.

Formerly after regattas at Pass Christian Yacht Club, the Bay Waveland members cruised home in the Scots, usually resulting in an impromptu race. This year, Bay Waveland's Race Committee Chairman Pete Morrill, made it an official race, starting in front of PCYC and finishing in front of BWYC after sailing through both bridges, rounding the No. 1 beacon and the "B" mark.

The train-bridge tender seemed to be enjoying the spectacle of the approaching boats so much that he delayed opening the bridge just long enough for the last boat to catch up with the first and for one over anxious skipper to get side-swiped by the opening draw.

There was a real scramble as the boats converged on the automobile draw and some hairy moments as the three skippers sailed through abreast.

Bobby Eagan emerged first through the drawbridge but was overtaken on the reach to the East beacon by Chris Stieffel, who increased her lead to finish first, with crew Cindy and Tracey Stieffel. Second was Bobby Eagan; third, Ray Stieffel; fourth, Woody Santa Cruz; fifth, Frank Allen; Ann Stieffel DNF.

Another great evening of Bailing the Bilge was enjoyed by many members last Saturday night at the Yacht Club.

PRC Downs Northwest 7-6

Pearl River Junior College wrapped up their regular season undefeated last Saturday night in Poplarville in downing the Northwest Rangers 7-6 in a close fought battle to the end.

A gust wind of 15-20 miles per hour and mid-40 temperatures set the stage for the match and it apparently had a great effect on the passing game of both squads.

Pearl River hit on only 3 of 15 aeriels for 58 yards, while the Rangers completed 3 of 18 for 44 yards. Wildcat QB Gary Blaise had two interceptions in the contest, while the Ranger QB Walter Denton had one.

Larry Tyrone and Mike Powers, two former Sumrall High standouts, had a field day in the rushing category, with Tyrone running for 132 yards in 24 carries and Powers garnering 113 yards in 20 attempts. L.B. Bullock, 1972 State scoring leader on the JuCo circuit, ran for 70 yards in 8 carries and caught 2 passes for 26 yards.

With a total offense of 326 yards, the Wildcats completely dominated the statistical department. 18 first downs were gathered by the Wildcats, while the Rangers got 11.

Pearl River and Northwest exchanged the ball five times before any scoring threat got underway and Pearl River was the first to do so.

Plenty ground mullets or channel mullets (as they are also called) are being caught out in most bayous and rivers at this time. Ground mullets are a solid fish and are caught while fishing mostly on the bottom using dead shrimp for bait. Casting rods are usually used for catching them. Flavor is excellent for eating. They can be tenderloined and fried or is large enough, baked. Strictly a salt-water fish.

Bags (Green trout) are hitting better on underwater baits. Some real nice ones were caught up Pearl River over the weekend. Live shrimp used for bait always pays off. The Repala or Rebel plugs are excellent for casting. Honor to whom honor is due. Alden Mauffray caught two bass on one Repala Sunday. Quite an unusual feat.

Duck hunting began Saturday in the Louisiana marshes. Hunters were out at day break. Most of the old timers are baffled by the new point system, effective this year. It takes a Philadelphia lawyer to figure it out. Local duck hunters were out in force to start the season off right.

J. Burton Angelle, director of the Louisiana Wild Life and Fisheries Commission, today cautioned hunters against the taking of so-called wild hogs in Louisiana, and particularly on Commission wildlife management areas.

He said that numerous complaints of hunters shooting hogs in the Pearl River Wildlife Management Area have been received by the Commission, and stressed there are no wild hogs in Louisiana.

Angelle warned hunters that the shooting of hogs that are ear-marked or tato-branded is strictly forbidden.

Still haven't gotten any news on squirrels and rabbits being killed. Maybe hunters are waiting for the first real frost to hunt 'em.

Trotting for speckle trout up Jourdan River should start soon. A few of the prized trout have been gotten off the mud flat recently. The mud flat is at the mouth of the river.

Dove hunting hasn't improved much. Don't seem to be many birds down this way.

Taking the ball on their own 20-yard line, the Wildcats started an 13 play-50 yard drive to paydirt, which was capped off by Mike Powers when he ran it in from the 2 with 14:20 left in the 2nd quarter. The big play in the drive was a roughing the kicker penalty at midfield on punter David Richardson. This kept the Wildcat drive alive and it eventually resulted in 6 points. Adkin's conversion was good and Pearl River led 7-0.

Punts, interceptions, penalties, and fumbles marked the remainder of the first half and it wasn't until early in the 3rd quarter that any scoring threat was posed. The Wildcats had taken a Northwest punt to about their own 35 yard stripe and ensuing plays of 13, 3 and 34 yards had Pearl River inside Ranger territory.

QB Gary Blaise threw it long to L.B. Bullock near the five, but only to be intercepted by Robert Akins. Akins was dropped immediately, but the Wildcat's scoring drive was stymied. Punting in their next series, the Wildcats had the Ranger returner completely covered and managed to recover his fumble, but a penalty nullified the hustle and the Rangers had the ball first and 10 at the Wildcat 47.

Seven plays later, Ranger QB Denton had his team inside the Wildcat 35 yard line and threw a hopeful scoring aerial at the five, but only to have it picked off by Wildcat defender Larry Lee with 8:32 left in the encounter.

Pearl River was forced to punt again and the Rangers took the ball at the Wildcat 45 yard line. It took Northwest only 6 plays to march the 45 yard margin when running back Lee Lelort ran it in from the 2 yard line with 3:41 left in the contest.

A victory-hungry group of Rangers elected to go for the 2 point conversion to take the game. However, Louis Jordan, Steve Anderson, Allen Cuculu, Bruce Staten, and Orlander Newsome promptly dropped the Quarterback for a 25 yard loss and PRC had won their 9th game of the year and finished the season undefeated.

NOVEMBER IS DESIGNATED AS Consumer Energy Conservation Month

Dear Customer:

As you are probably aware, our country faces natural gas and fuel oil shortages this winter. The turmoil in the Middle East, from which an increasing amount of this nation's oil supply is imported, exemplifies the uncertainties of the situation. Natural gas and oil are two of the fuels used by Mississippi Power Company for the production of electricity.

The White House has officially declared November as Consumer Energy Conservation Month to focus attention on this problem and to encourage consumers to develop the practice of conserving energy.

I encourage our customers to support this national program by individually using electric service in a wise and efficient manner. Below are 10 suggestions which can help you make the most efficient use of your heating system, thereby assisting in the conservation of our nation's vital energy supplies and saving money at the same time.

Sincerely,

There's more to electricity than meets the plug

Through wise use of your electric service, you not only conserve your money but also our nation's vital natural resources.

10 "Centsible" Tips On Electric Heating

1 Don't play with the thermostat. Choose a comfortable setting and leave it there. For every degree you set the thermostat above the normal setting (70-72 degrees), you raise your heating costs by about five percent.

2 When you are going away for several days, set the thermostat back about 10 degrees, thereby conserving your money and our valuable natural resources. Turning the thermostat down 10 degrees at night may also produce a saving. However, in the morning the thermostat should not be returned to a point higher than your normal degree setting for the day.

3 Have your entire heating system cleaned and checked at the beginning of the heating season. Clean or change filters monthly for more efficient operation of the system. Keeping filters clean will help keep the air clean inside your home, too. An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure!

4 Insulation and weatherstripping are important factors in properly heating your home. Make sure your home has adequate insulation in walls, ceilings, and floors. It takes at least twice as much electricity to heat an uninsulated home. Weatherstrip and caulk around all windows and doors. If they are leaking air, you may be increasing your heating costs by 15 to 30 percent.

5 Glass easily transmits heat to the outside. Installation of storm windows could reduce heat loss by as much as 15 percent. When the sun is shining, let it in; otherwise, close drapes, shades, and blinds for extra insulation.

6 Don't heat the outdoors! Why spend money heating space you are not using — close doors to basement, garage, or other unheated areas. If you have individual room thermostats or vents, you may close off any areas of the home you are not using.

7 An open fireplace can draw up to 20 percent of the warm air out of the house, and that's money up the chimney! Be sure the damper is closed when the fireplace is not in use.

8 Keep all furniture and drapes clear of air grills. Items that restrict the flow of air prevent efficient operation of the heating system, causing it to work harder to produce the comfort you need.

9 Never place a lamp or television receiver near the thermostat; their heat will cause a higher reading than the true average temperature.

10 Any heating system that is too large or too small for your home can make for unnecessary operating costs. So, if you're thinking of putting electric heat in your home, contact one of Mississippi Power Company's Residential Representatives. He will be glad to help you determine the proper size system for your heating needs.
